If there is one thing that must be understood about capitalism before it's allowed to finish the destruction of life on earth is that its reason for being in the final analysis has nothing to do with providing the needs and wants that humans require and desire. It's only purpose is to control the production and profitable sale of the necessities of life, in all its permutations, for their personal enrichment. That systems' anti-human, anti-earth, anti-life drive has led us to the brink of extinction and will now be the only source of a solution if permitted to maintain de facto ownership of the earth.

The leadership of the recent COP26 conference formed a group in April called the Glasgow Financial Alliance for Net Zero (GFANZ). In typical capitalist fashion they have simplified the problem to make it a manageable, profitable, failure. Net Zero refers to the reduction of CO2 to that state by 2050, and greenhouse gases by 2070. A core sub-feature of GFANZ is the creation of Natural Asset Corporations.

The formation of NAC's is being promoted by the New York Stock Exchange, and is currently working with the Intrinsic Exchange Group on a pilot program in Costa Rica to institute a protocol for ownership of forests, lakes, waterfalls, mountains, meadows, caves, wetlands, etc. The NAC will decide rights to a natural assets productivity and how it is managed. It is then funded by NYSE Initial Public Offering after which the asset is then marketed by the company to potential buyers for their profitable enjoyment.

Apparently they have limited for now only 30% of Mother Nature, which the NAC has monetized as $4 Quadrillion in value, for sale to entrepreneurs. Any planned visits to Costa Rica should proceed in haste before the country is deemed private property.

That the United Nations is directly involved in this capitalist coup of the world should rid anyone with a sincere concern for the earth and our existence of reliance on any entity controlled by capitalists. As Secretary General Kofi Annan said before the World Economic Forum in 1998: *The United Nations once dealt only with governments. By now we know that peace and prosperity cannot be achieved without partnerships involving governments, international organizations, the business community and civil society. . . . The business of the United Nations involves the businesses of the world.

They thought they could throw a blanket over Omicron and it would quietly turn out to be no big thing. Just another little variant that the vaccines could handle. But it's here. It's quickly spreading world wide, and it seems to be infecting the vaccinated as easily as those withholding their arms. And also the markets.

The grand display of a reopening following almost two years of pandemic has been closed by a rather large and broadly based down markets. JP Morgan Chase market experts have urged buying on the dip. That almost always works with money blinded investors. But only for one day this week.

Pfizer CEO Albert Bourla in a BBC interview boldly asserted something that will be kept from American ears if possible. He is quite sure that Covid 19 will require annual inoculations -- said with a big smile on his face -- that $3.5 billion profit wants company.
